Chemical Engine for Congress Heights erection on land to be donated by Mr. A. E. Randle, in Congress Heights, of a chemical engine house and for the purchase of chemical engine, Commissioner Wight says there is no doubt in his mind that sch an engine at Congress Heights would be an advantage. He says he sees no ob-jection to the bill so far as it relates to providing such an engine for that locality. The engine would cost about £,200, and he invites attention to the fact that this piece of fire-fighting apparatus would be useless without a company to man it. If the en-gine and house are to be provided, he says, it will be necessary for Congress to provide for the men to man it.

DRAFT OF BILL APPROVED BY COM-MISSIONER BEACH.

Provision to Encourage the Donation of Land for Street Purposes -Other Features.

Captain Beach, the District Engineer commissioner, has recommended to his as-sociates that a copy of a bill prepared by Mr. Wm. P. Richards, the assistant engineer, for regulating the grades of 20th street and for other purposes, be for-warded to each District committee in Congress with a request that the bill be intro-duced and enacted into law. In explanation of the measure, Mr. Richards states that it is particularly desirable to have ome action in accordance with the first portion of it in order to do away with certain excessive and dangerous grades in the vicinity of Baltimore and 20th streets. He is also of the opinion that some action

Other Meetings Held.

Bryan democrats held a meeting at Cos tello's Hall last night, which was presided over by Henry W. Martin, treasurer of the Anti-Trust League. W. A. Ryan of Rochester made a speech, describing the alleged conspiracy to defeat Bryan and 16 to 1 at Kansas City, and reiterating the arguments he has made on former occasions in favor of sending only instructed delegates to the national democratic convention. The effort to put Admiral Dewey forward, he said, was a part of this plot, and he declared he had positive knowledge that it was concocted three months ago. Mr. Ryan then attacked the power of wealth, asserting that its possession by democrats was as mean as is its possession by republicans. After Mr. Charles W. Slater had made a few remarks of like tenor, William L. Holmed spoke. conspiracy to defeat Bryan and 16 to 1 at

During the latter's remarks he made some reference to his opponent, James L. Norris, which caused Hugh Cosgrove to ask what Mr. Norris had ever done to cause him to be distrusted. Mr. Holmead having replied that Mr. Norris had said he had objected to that Mr. Norris had said he had objected to going to the convention pledged, his questioner asked him if he had not been a gold democrat. Mr. Holmead said he had been before going to Chicago in 1896, but Mr. Bryan's address converted him to 16 to 1, in which he had believed ever since.

Some one proposed three cheers for Norris, which were given with a will, and then Mr. Holmead called for three cheers and a tiger for Bryan, and the response was enthusiastic. Brief remarks were made by ex-Representative J. Floyd King of Louisiana and W. F. Sargeant and B. L. Looney of Texas.

THE CRUSADE AGAINST COMMISSIONER WIGHT.

He is Defended by a Colored Man.

A story is told of the late Judge Barnard of New York city (an old story, it may be), how, when a young counsellor was vociferously arguing a motion before him, the mark, "Counsellor, the law and the facts are against you." "So much the worse, then, for the law and the facts," replied the unabashed counsellor.

May it not be that in this crusade against Commissioner Wight the "law and the Commissioner Wight the "law and the facts" are against his assailants, and in that case must the law and facts give way?

Let us see. It is a matter of record that the colored race comprise one-third of the total population of Washington. Confined in the Washington jail as offenders against the law there are 374 prisoners. Of these 303 are colored.

I have not the figures of the workhouse, but am told that about the same proportions exist.

There were sent to the state prisons, where the government convicts are immured, since November 1, 1897, 350 convicted criminals from the Washington jail. Of this number 295 were colored and only sixty-five white.

ty-five white.

Ninety per cent of the cases occupying the attention of our police courts and taxing the abilities of two police judges, from early morning till late in the day, are those of colored offenders.

Now this is not a pleasant state of affairs for any well-wisher of the colored race (of whom I am one) to contemplate. True, much can be said in their behalf when one considers their previous history, lack of opportunity, etc., but conceding all this, if portunity, etc., but conceding all this, if after nearly forty years of freedom, with unequaled school facilities, churches abounding, charitable and beneficial organiaccounting, caritable and beneficial organizations unlimited, and close touch with the best side of civilization, all of which the colored people of Washington have, they are unable to make a better showing than the above, what can we expect for them in the future?

In the future?

There are a goodly number of colored people in Washington who, for character, education, refinement, dress and deportment will compare favorably with the higher products of civilization of any race or people, but they are in a honeless minority and shunned by the great mass of their own people.

This state of affairs has long given the This state of affairs has long given the friends of the colored people grave concern, and Commissioner Wight has only given perhaps too forcible expression to facts which every one knows and every good citizen must necessarily regret.

How they can be remedied and a different condition obtain is not easily to be seen. It will not help matters to abuse Mr. Wight, but only call attention more strongly to the out only call attention more strongly to the Rev. Dr. Talmage was the principal witness for the government. He told of the value and ownership of the ring.

"I always liked Wilson and never found any fault with him, and I am a very unwilling witness," explained the witness, just prior to leaving the stand.

Detectives Lacy and Baur testified regarding the arrest of Wilson and to finding the ring in a bank of snow in the rear of the detective office.

The defense, in effect, was that Wilson was employed in the household of Rev. Dr. Talmage. He found the ring referred to on the floor and placed it in his pocket, intending to return it to Mrs. Talmage at the first opportunity. He changed his clothes,
